

CORPORATE OCCUPIERS AND TENANTS

OVERVIEW

BCLP has a long standing and well established reputation in counseling corporate entities on the complex legal and technical issues arising out of their occupation of business premises. Our Corporate Occupiers and Tenants team has advised on some of the largest and most complicated office, retail and industrial leasing transactions throughout the world.

In our role as advisor to many major corporations, our market-leading lawyers work closely with your in-house legal and facilities management teams to address the strategic and day-to-day needs arising out of your real estate portfolios, including headquarters office moves, fit-outs, sales and leasebacks, and exit and disposal strategies. We also work closely with our corporate, tax, finance and dispute resolution teams to deliver seamless service.

Through a combination of market knowledge and proven track record, we can deliver genuinely “best in class” advice across the globe with regard to our clients’ corporate real estate interests.

What do I do if a person suspected or confirmed to have COVID-19 has been at my U.S. facility?

If you have a confirmed or suspected COVID-19 case tied to your premises, what you should do depends on whether the person is an employee or an invitee, such as a customer or business guest. While the rules are similar, there are some distinctions.
