PARTNER PENS FEATURE FOR 'ENVIRONMENT JOURNAL' AND 'ENVIRONMENT ANALYST' ON THE RAMIFICATIONS OF MISUNDERSTANDING PUBLIC MONEY

Sep 09, 2021

Partner Jason Chamberlain has written for Environment Journal, first published Sept. 7, and Environment Analyst, first published Sept. 7, explaining how a war-like effort is needed to combat climate change and how the UK's misunderstanding of public money may result in environmental catastrophe. Chamberlain describes how "the misinformation about, causing our misunderstanding of, how public money works, may just mean we tragically end up putting the financial costs of doing enough before the environmental costs of not doing enough."
