

News

BCLP LAWYER IN 'LEGALTECH NEWS' ON PREDICTIONS FOR CYBERSECURITY IN 2022

Dec 29, 2021

BCLP Partner Lori Van Auken was quoted Dec. 28 by Legaltech News in the first of the seven part series on Legal Tech's predictions for cybersecurity for 2022. "I expect we'll see major fall-out from the December 2020 SolarWinds attack. The SEC has been conducting a sweeping investigation of affected companies, seeking information about any unauthorized access they may have experienced, dating back to October 2019, even if unrelated to SolarWinds," said Lori. "This gives the SEC a window into a lot of potentially immaterial, non-public information that typically would be off-limits. I expect to see a number of high-profile enforcement actions as a result, and some challenging new disclosure requirements around cybersecurity risks and incidents."

RELATED CAPABILITIES

- Data Privacy & Security

This material is not comprehensive, is for informational purposes only, and is not legal advice. Your use or receipt of this material does not create an attorney-client relationship between us. If you require legal advice, you should consult an attorney regarding your particular circumstances. The choice of a lawyer is an important decision and should not be based solely upon advertisements. This material may be "Attorney Advertising" under the ethics and professional rules of certain jurisdictions. For advertising purposes, St. Louis, Missouri, is designated BCLP's principal office and Kathrine Dixon (kathrine.dixon@bclplaw.com) as the responsible attorney.