International law firm BCLP today announces a change in the management of the Real Estate practice group in Germany.

After many years of successful work as the Real Estate practice group leader, Tina Siebenhaar has decided to take on new professional challenges. We thank Tina for her dedicated work and wish her all the best and continued success. We are delighted that Christian Lonquich is taking over the position with immediate effect. With his collaborative approach, extensive legal and practical experience, and his proven track record in advising clients on complex transactions, Christian will play a crucial role in continuing BCLP's development and further strengthening and expanding our position in the market.

Of his appointment, Christian said, "Our team in Germany, its composition and especially the people at BCLP are great. I'm grateful for the trust placed in me by the management and my partners, I am very much looking forward to tackling the challenges of the market together as an ever-growing and developing team and continuing on our successful path."

"The appointment of Christian as the Real Estate practice group leader in Germany is an excellent choice. His expertise and leadership will take our team to new heights and further strengthen our position as leading advisors in real estate law," said Carsten Bremer, office managing partner of BCLP Germany.
