BCLP WELCOMES NEW PARTNER TO LONDON CORPORATE TEAM

Jun 02, 2025

International law firm BCLP announced today that it will expand its UK Corporate & Finance Transactions Department with the addition of Partner Sean Scanlon.

Sean's practice focuses on corporate law, assisting clients with transactional matters including national and international M&A, joint ventures, reorganizations and fundraising. Within the real estate investment sector, he has advised on the acquisition and disposal of care homes, retail properties, self-storage facilities, hotels, restaurants, holiday parks and office facilities across the UK and Europe. He also has extensive experience across other business sectors, including for-profit education and insurance. Sean has acted for a broad range of clients such as corporations, founders, management teams, family offices, private equity houses, asset managers and institutional investors.

Before joining BCLP, Sean was a partner at Arnold & Porter.

This announcement follows the strategic London hires of Partners Lerika Le Grange and Simon Letherman, who also joined BCLP's Corporate & Finance Transactions Department in May. Sean's arrival marks another significant step in strengthening BCLP's corporate transactions practice in London and enhancing the firm's global capabilities.

Sean Scanlon said, "Having met the BCLP team, I'm excited to join a truly full-service platform that aligns with my growth ambitions. The firm's breadth of services, integrated capabilities and strong focus on real estate and private equity will open up strategic marketing and cross-collaboration opportunities that will support the expansion of my practice and deliver greater value to clients."

Carol Osborne, Global Department Leader for Corporate & Finance Transactions, commented, "We're delighted to welcome Sean to the team. His focus on business development opportunities, as well as his ability to deepen our relationships with existing clients, will be a valuable part of our strategy to grow and diversify our core corporate practice in London."
