Biography

Amee Frodle is Counsel in BCLP's Seattle office and a member of the Business & Commercial Disputes team. She represents clients across highly regulated and innovation-driven sectors, including pharmaceutical, biopharma and technology companies, helping them navigate complex commercial disputes with practical, business-focused advice. Amee's litigation experience spans the full lifecycle of a matter, from early case assessment, strategy development and pleadings through fact and expert discovery, dispositive motion practice, trial preparation, trial and appeal. She has handled complex discovery, worked with fact and expert witnesses, drafted and argued motions, managed case strategy across multiple forums and supported clients in resolving disputes efficiently while protecting their broader commercial objectives.
