Biography

Taylor Rowland is an Associate in the firm's Restructuring & Insolvency Practice Group.

Prior to joining the firm, Taylor served as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Brian C. Walsh of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, where she conducted extensive legal research, analyzed complex bankruptcy and litigation issues, and drafted opinions, orders, and memoranda for court proceedings. During her clerkship, she also co-authored the article "When the Actor Leaves the Stage: Passive Voice in the Bankruptcy Code," published in the American Bankruptcy Institute Journal.

Taylor earned her J.D. from Duke University School of Law, where she served as a staff editor of the Duke Journal of Constitutional Law and Public Policy. She received the Dean's Award in Ethics and the Law of Lawyering, awarded for the highest grade in the class, and was actively involved in student leadership as Vice President of Special Events for the Women Law Students Association and Finance Chair of the Intellectual Property Law Society.
