Biography

Bruce Mena-Sierra is an Associate in the BCLP Commercial Real Estate practice, where he advises clients on a broad range of real estate transactions and development matters. His practice draws on a strong foundation in legal research, drafting, transactional support, and client service developed through his experience with complex real estate and commercial matters.

Prior to joining BCLP as an Associate, Bruce served as a Summer Associate with the firm, where he supported attorneys on real estate transactions, conducted research on contractual and business law issues, and assisted with drafting motions and transactional documents. He also gained valuable judicial experience through an externship with the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri, working with Judge Bough on legal research, memoranda, and proposed judicial orders.

Bruce earned his Juris Doctor from the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Law, where he graduated with academic distinction and received multiple honors, including the Hispanic Bar Association of Greater Kansas City Scholarship and CALI Excellence for the Future Award for Lawyering Skills I, Sports Law, and Field Placement Seminar. Bruce served on the Law Review Board and as a Teaching Assistant for Lawyering Skills. He was also active in Law Review and the Latino Law Student Association.

Before beginning his legal career, Bruce held leadership roles with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Kansas City, where he managed teams supporting youth mentorship programs throughout the Kansas City community. This experience strengthened his collaborative approach, communication skills, and commitment to client service. Fluent in English and Spanish, Bruce brings a practical, relationship-driven perspective to his work on behalf of real estate clients.
