BIOGRAPHY

Akhil Markanday leads BCLP's Real Estate Disputes Group and serves as practice group leader for the firm's Arbitration, Real Estate and Construction Disputes Practice. Clients around the world rely on his 20+ years' experience in complex high-stakes disputes to manage risk across their UK activities.

Akhil has substantial experience with the full range of contentious property matters including joint venture, sale and purchase and development/rights of light and neighbour disputes. He also advises clients on asset management matters across their portfolios and has extensive experience with landlord and tenant matters such as rent reviews, dilapidations, forfeiture and insolvency. Akhil is also well versed in protest/trespass matters where he has secured a number of high profile injunctions to help protect clients' land interests and is also regularly sought out to advise on real estate related professional negligence claims.

Akhil is a well-known real estate litigator, receiving recognition year after year by the leading legal directories. Chambers continually ranks him in Band 1 for real estate litigation and describes Akhil as "an outstanding legal mind who is completely brilliant with clients." Legal 500 recognizes Akhil as a Leading Individual and describes him as "simply the best, focused, resolute and a great negotiator."

Are you ready for Martyn's Law?

The Terrorism (Protection of Premises) Act received Royal Assent on 3 April 2025 and is expected to be implemented within the next 24 months. There will be no legal requirement to comply until the legislation comes into force, and the Home Office will publish statutory guidance on compliance during the 24-month implementation period. The Act will strengthen the security of many publicly accessible premises (with a focus on retail, hospitality, entertainment and leisure venues). Those in control of relevant premises will be required to take steps to reduce the risk of physical harm to individuals in the event of a terrorist attack.
