VAT invoices and the final date for payment

In its recent decision in Lidl Great Britain Ltd v Closed Circuit Cooling Ltd (t/a 3CL) [2023] EWHC 2243 (TCC), the TCC provided some helpful guidance around the statutory payment provisions in the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act 1996 (Construction Act 1996) with which all construction contracts are required to comply. In doing so it reinforced Cockerill J's comments in an earlier case, Rochford Construction Ltd v Kilhan Construction Ltd [2020] EWHC 941 (TCC) and highlighted, yet again, the importance to employers and contractors of ensuring that their construction contracts comply with the Construction Act 1996.

Construction Act consultation - summary of responses

It may understandably not be at the forefront of people's minds as the industry responds and reacts to the COVID-19 pandemic, but in February 2020 the government finally published a summary of responses to its Construction Act 1996 consultation. Matt Molloy has previously blogged on the responses from an adjudication-perspective so I thought it would be interesting to have a look at the responses to some of the other questions
