

REAL ESTATE RETAIL

OVERVIEW

The face of retail is changing. There is little room for complacency as the shrewdest developers, investors, operators and brands defy the naysayers and find new ways to meet evolving tenant and customer needs, and build future-proof businesses and destinations that will thrive in the longer term.

Being retail experts alone is no longer enough from your legal advisors. As new challenges emerge, it is only true real estate sector specialists that will be able to navigate the evolution of the industry with you, partner with you as you make investment decisions and help you maximise the value of your retail assets.

Our multi-disciplinary team comprise lawyers in real estate, construction, planning and zoning, regulatory, brand portfolio management, M&A and corporate finance, commercial, employment, finance, insolvency, licensing, franchising, data privacy, trade regulation, competition, litigation, tax, pre-paid cards and banking, and they bring practical, commercial advice in an up-to-date market context to every client.

Our team are located in key retail locations around the world including New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, London, Paris and Hong Kong SAR. They advise a wide range of clients including retailers, brand owners, manufacturers, investors and property developers, who operate in all aspects of the retail sector, from large scale supermarkets and destination shopping centres to quick serve restaurants and e-commerce.

We bring our judgment, experience and know-how to bear in shaping the decisions that our retail clients must take.

The Hong Kong SAR 2023-24 budget – Real Estate sector highlights, green initiatives and other updates

On 22 February 2023, Paul Chan, the Financial Secretary of Hong Kong SAR, delivered the 2023-24 Budget (the “Budget”). Starting off by acknowledging the severe external environment, Chan went on to forecast that the Hong Kong SAR economy will see “a visible rebound” and can enjoy “abundant opportunities”. Confirming speculation circulated by the press prior to the publication of the Budget, Chan announced the implementation of a further round of consumption vouchers of HK$5,000 per eligible citizen, as well as the launch of a “Happy Hong Kong” campaign consisting of gourmet experiences, sea-land carnivals, mega events and other collaboration events whether on the tech side with the Science Park and Cyberport, or with Hong Kong SAR’s Ocean Park and Disneyland and the highly acclaimed cultural facilities of M+ and the Palace Museum. Aside from these more eye-catching initiatives, the Budget ...

Since the onset of the COVID-19 outbreak, parties have searched for contractual clauses (or legal doctrines) which may release, or at the very least, alleviate some of the obligations they are required to perform. In this vein, there have been various discussions on invoking force majeure clauses. While the COVID-19 (Temporary Measures) Act was passed in Singapore and provides interim relief for some parties, it is still important to understand where parties' rights in respect of a force majeure event may lie. In this article, we will focus on (a) seeking relief under a force majeure clause in your existing contract and (b) considerations for allocating contractual risk and crafting force majeure clauses in future agreements.
