BIOGRAPHY

Sasha Riedisser is a member of the firm's Commercial Disputes Practice Group and focuses her practice on Fiduciary Litigation.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Riedisser interned in the estate and tax planning department at Stifel Nicolaus, where she worked to provide guidance to clients regarding their estate plans. Ms. Riedisser volunteered at Arch City Defenders in St. Louis, Missouri. In this position, she helped litigate civil rights actions in the Eastern District of Missouri.

Ms. Riedisser graduated from Washington University in St. Louis School of Law where she attended on a full tuition scholarship as a Dean's Scholar. She excelled not only in her doctrinal classes but also in her practical classes. Ms. Riedisser earned high passes in Trial, Practice, and Procedure and Advanced Trial Advocacy.

During law school, Ms. Riedisser was a member of the national moot court team. She was also a finalist in the Wiley Rutledge Moot Court competition. Ms. Riedisser was on staff for Washington University's Jurisprudence Review. During her third year of law school, Ms. Riedisser worked to request writs of habeas corpus for inmates on death row through Washington University's post-conviction relief clinic.

Prior to law school, Ms. Riedisser worked as a graduate research assistant at the Benjamin L. Hooks Institute for Social Change.
